Graduate Institute of International Human Resources Development

Slogan
Global Thinking Local Touch

Degree Offered
- Bachelor Programs
- Master’s Programs
- Doctoral Programs

Introduction
Faculty members of College of Technology, National Taiwan Normal University (NTNU), have long been involved in the teaching and conducting of research in fields of technical and vocational education as well as Human Resource Development. Extended from this extensive experience, the college established the Graduate Institute of International Workforce Educational and Development (IWED) in 2002. The educational goals of this new program are three fold:
- To develop international business Human Resource Planning and Management professionals,
- To cultivate governmental Human Resource Planning and Management professionals,
- To cultivate international nonprofit organization Human Resource Planning and Management professionals.

Research Fields
- All the courses will be taught in the English language.
- A strong linkage between theory and practice will be implemented.

Graduation Requirements
Course duration (per semester) : at least one year (according to the regulations of NTNU)
The requirements for graduation : 36 credits (3 credits/course)

Languages of Instruction
- English
- Chinese
- Other:

Entry Requirements
- Before graduation, students who have not obtained a college degree from an English-speaking country must achieve (1) a 88 or higher on TOEFL-iBT, or (2) a 230 or higher on TOEFL-CBT, or (3) a 800 or higher on TOEIC, or the higher-intermediate level or above on the GEPT, to qualify for the master’s degree examination.
- New students will be required to take the basic statistics exam. Those who fail the exam will have to take the Basic Statistics course.
- All newly admitted students should take HIV tests at a recognized hospital within one month after registration.
- English proficiency proof (transcript of TOEFL or from language center or degree from an English-speaking country) is required to provide or through the interview by director or professors to approve your English proficiency before enrollment.

Contact Information
Tel: 886-2-7714-8660 / Ms. Chen
Website: http://www.ihrd.ntnu.edu.tw/iwed
E-mail: believer@ntnu.edu.tw